

Dr Matilde Laurá is a consultant neurologist at the National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery in London. She is also Honorary Associate Professor at the Department of Neuromuscular Diseases, University College London Queen Square, Institute of Neurology, London, United Kingdom. Her clinical and research interest is Charcot Marie Tooth disease with a particular interest in the multidisciplinary management of CMT. She has been contributing on orthopaedic and pregnancy management and she has been involved in the development of outcome measures, natural history studies and clinical trials in CMT.